I. The initial test result indicates that you are negative for dengue fever. However, the final PCR test result will be provided by our lab later. To ensure your and your family's health, the Department of Health, Kaohsiung City Government will refer you to a hospital for hospitalization until the PCR test result comes out. The citizens, international migrant workers, or foreigners working in Kaohsiung City who have national health insurance will be admitted free of charge (the subsidy does not cover meal expenses, self-paid ward fees, or self-paid medications). Those without national health insurance will need to cover hospitalization fees on their own or by their employers.

II. To prevent the spread of disease, if you do not agree with being hospitalized, please conduct your health after returning to your living space and adhere to the following guidelines:

1. Maintain good hygiene in your living environment. Use a mosquito net while sleeping and apply government-approved mosquito repellent when carrying out activities to avoid mosquito bites.
2. Before your PCR test result for dengue fever comes out, “do not go to work or attend classes for the time being.” If the PCR test result is positive, all the costs for implementing chemical control measures in the workplace or educational venues will be borne by the owner/user/manager of the sites.
3. For your health, keep your phone accessible within 7 days upon entry in Taiwan, so that our health authorities can contact you when necessary for disease prevention measures, including breeding source inspections and blood tests.
4. If you are an international migrant worker or foreign worker, kindly pass this notice to your employer or agency for assistance in health management.

☐ I disagree with hospital admission
